Genesee County Maternal Child Health Network
Thriving Communities
Embracing a Culture of Health

The Network is coordinated by the
GENEESE COUNTY HEALTH DEPARTMENT
Hello and Welcome!

The Genesee County Maternal Child Health (MCH) Network, re-launched this August (2022), is a group of local community organizations and partners working together to better the health of moms and babies in Genesee County. Our goal is to create a strong network of MCH providers and parents to encourage resource sharing, collaboration, and streamline program referral processes. We meet quarterly to discuss community needs and improvements to service delivery and referrals. Our work has a specific focus on reduced infant mortality through safe sleep and the Fetal Infant Mortality Review Program (FIMR). Stay in the know!
Request to join our mailing list here
Or email info@genesecounty.mi.gov

We know there are tons of resource guides out there already (like the 2021 Resource Guide from Healthy Start LEAP) with tons of County resources listed. We chose to create this version with a focus on services for moms, children, and families, ranging from prenatal needs to needs that arise as a child enters school.

Before you dive into the resources, please note:

1. Programs and services often change - to ensure information is current, please CALL the program or organization beforehand.
2. Listing a program here does not equal our endorsement of their services - this guide is intended for informational purposes only.
3. Have updated information on a listed program or service? Want your program added? Call the Network Coordinator: (810) 257 - 3435.
