Munkirs-Hall

Friday afternoon Oct. 7, Mr. Wade Munkirs and Miss Josephine Hall were quietly married by H. P. McClintic at Liberty, Mo.

The bride is the daughter of Geo. G. Hall and is a very popular young lady.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Munkirs and is one of Clay County's industrious young farmer.

Both these young people were reared in this vicinity and have many friends in Kearney whom the Courier joins in wishing them a long and happy married life.

They moved to the Joe Hall farm Saturday where they are at home to their friends.

Many From Here Win

Many of our people attended the Products Show in Liberty last week and all we have talked with report that exhibits were very fine.

In glancing over the list of prize winners we see many names of people in Kearney and vicinity. Of course, this is to be expected as it is pretty hard to beat them in anything.

Drunkard's Punishment

The drunkard's cloak was an old English punishment for drunkenness.
A spirits barrel was hung on the drunkard with holes in the sides,
through which his hands were thrust.
He could neither sit nor lie down.

Diamond's Brittleness

Shell Horsehides

"I never knew work shoes could be so easy on the feet!" . . . "Uppers still as soft as the day I bought the shoes." . . . "I can't seem to wear them out" . . . that's the praise from men who wear Wolverine Shell Horsehides.
They know Wolverines stand the gaff better in toughest service.

No wonder! Wolverine Shell Horsehide has an extra-wearing surface. Secret tanning makes this double-strength leather almost glove-soft, scuffproof and acid-resisting. And the seams are practically rip-proof. Yet Wolverines cost less when you consider their long wear, comfort, neat appearance and real economy.

Wagy Community

E. F. Fleming and Fred Wagy attended the dairy sale at Nashua Thursday.

Our neighborhood was well represented at the Product show. Everyone who went seemed to enjoy themselves very much. Some attended nearly every day.

The Wagy-Gilead Community Club members were well pleased with the proceeds from their quilt which they raffled off at the product show. The quilt brought over $26. J. N. Leonard was the lucky one to draw the quilt.

The ladies aid met with G. H. Smith Wednesday. An all day meeting was held, with a covered dish luncheon at the noon hour. The ladies worked on the quilt which they have started.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bowers had stock on the market Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Z. Mauzey's daughter, Myrtle left for Kansas City Wednesday.

War Vet Claims to Have Worn Smallest Uniform

New Bedford, Mass.—Timothy J. O'Leary of this city, who recently was awarded the Purple Heart medal for being wounded in action, claims to have worn the smallest uniform issued by the government during the World war.

He was only 5 feet 2 inches when he enlisted and wore size 5 shoes.

O'Leary was in New York's "Fighting Sixty-ninth" regiment and for a time was orderly for Col. William J. "Wild Bill" Donovan. He was standing within 20 feet of Joyce Kilmer the poet when the latter was killed.

Somebody has figured out that 50 per cent of married people are fundamentally happy, 15 per cent moderately happy, another 15 per cent moderately unhappy and 20 per cent so fundamentally unhappy that nothing can be done about it except divorce.

Gets Purse Back After 8 Years With Interest

Berlin. F. Kramer Berlin resident, has his pocketbook back and more than it contained when he lost it eight years ago. He had long since given up hope of ever seeing it again when a messenger boy delivered it to him recently with a note from the finder thanking him for the use of the money.

Elephant's Life Span

The Burmese, who are much accustomed to breeding elephants, say that the term of life is approximately 150 years for normal elephants. The period from birth to 25 years is considered infancy and extreme youth; from 25 to 35 years immature period; 35 to 45 years full grown period; 45 to 50 years middle-aged period; and 50 to 60 years and over period of old age and decline.

Tibetan Superstition

Tibetan "thunderbolts," with which to invoke the wrath of heaven, are on exhibition in the department of anthropology at Field Museum of Natural History, Chicago. These are emblems of the god Indra, made of bronze in a form symbolizing lightning strokes. With a bell in the left hand and one of those thunderbolts in the right, the Tibetan lamas call for the destruction of demons and opponents of Buddhism.

Cattle North of 55

If you are traveling in Canada above the fifty-fifth parallel you may encounter hump-backed cows wearing heavy coats. These would be catalo, a cross between domestic cattle and the buffalo. The Canadian government sponsored the experiment. The animal's meat is good, its hide is useful for robes and it can find winter forage for itself in cold regions.—World's Work.

Chinese Celebrations

The Chinese celebrate the New Year, ending with the Feast of Lanterns; Spring Festival, celebrated with kite-flying; Summer Holiday with Dragon Boat Festival; Autumn Holiday or Moon Festival, observed by eating moon cakes and as an occasion for family reunions; and Midautumn Holiday or Festival of High Places.

A Solomon as Judge

Two persons who had been much at variance with each other brought their quarrel before a wise clergyman. Each accused the other, and each declared himself innocent. The clergyman patiently heard their statements, and then quietly said, "My judgment is this: let the innocent forgive the guilty."
