City Receives County Grants

► $643K for 3 Projects

Information Courtesy
Adams County

On July 9, the Adams County Board of Commissioners (BOCC) awarded more than $21 million in open space grants for 24 projects thanks to the voter-approved Open Space Sales Tax. Northglenn received $643,000 for three projects that will all be underway by the end of the year.

Audio, Lighting, and Video – Safety Enhancements

New lighting, video surveillance, and an emergency alert system will be installed in E.B. Rains, Jr. Memorial Park and the Civic Center Campus. It will incorporate Crime Prevention Through Environmental Design (CPTED) principles to deter criminal activity, convey critical information during emergencies, and foster a safe environment for park visitors. Grant Award: $385,000

Greenway Trails Project

About 3,000 feet of old, cracked and dilapidated concrete on the Greenway Trail will be replaced. This should enhance the longevity, usability and quality of the trail system. Grant Award: $233,000

City's First EV Mower

This starts the transition of the city's gas-powered lawn equipment to electric. Electric lawnmowers are a prudent investment that aligns with our values of environmental stewardship and responsible management. Electric mowers offer a sustainable alternative to gas-powered equipment and contribute to a healthier environment for our communities and future generations. Grant Award: $25,000

The city would like to thank the BOCC, Adams County Open Space Advisory Board and all Adams County residents for these grants!

FINISHING TOUCHES

The new Northglenn City Hall is almost finished. Operations are scheduled to move to the new facility in September. Check out next month's Connection for more details.

On the outside, the exterior materials, PV canopy, sidewalks, and landscape boulders have been installed. Inside, most of the tile and carpeting are placed. Inspections are coming for the mechanical, electrical and plumbing systems. The building should be done in August with the completion of punch list items and final inspections.

This 32,600-square-foot facility will be Net Zero, meaning it will generate as much energy as it uses. It will also have a CORE Green Building Rating – the first municipal building in Colorado with that certification. This signifies its high level of sustainability. The $33.8M facility is being funded completely through reserves.

► Go to www.northglenn.org/newcityhall for more details and to see a live camera feed of the construction site.

Mayor's Memo: A Message from Mayor Meredith Leighty

Discourse, Not Divisive

► Bring Ideas, Disagreements Without Anger or Attacks

In August, City Council will elevate the topic of civility. Jessica Sandgren, Thornton City Council member and immediate past president of the Colorado Municipal League, encouraged cities around the state to make intentional commitments to civility as both individuals and governing bodies.

Leighty

In recent times, we have witnessed an increase in heated exchanges and divisive rhetoric, both locally and nationally. While passionate debate is a cornerstone of democracy, it is essential that we engage in these discussions with respect and a spirit of cooperation.

To this end, I am committed to ensuring that our city government sets an example of respectful and constructive dialogue.

Civility in government refers to the behavior and conduct of elected officials, civil servants, and political leaders in public office. It encompasses respectful discourse, courteous interactions, and adherence to ethical standards in their dealings with colleagues, constituents, and the public at large. Civility in government is crucial for fostering effective governance, maintaining public trust, facilitating problem-solving, setting a positive example, reducing polarization, and preserving democratic values. It is not just a matter of etiquette but a foundational element that contributes to the health and functionality of democratic societies.

A few guiding principles of this practice include:

- Listen as intently as you speak
- Focus on issues, not individuals
- Distinguish between fact and opinion

- Get curious instead of furious
- Acknowledge knowledge
- Own your intentions and your impact
- Seek common ground
- Be a role model

We each have a role to play in building a community where everyone feels heard and valued. I encourage every resident to join me in this effort. Let us all commit to engaging with one another in ways that reflect our shared values of respect, kindness, and cooperation.

Thank you for your continued dedication to making Northglenn a wonderful place to live, work, and thrive. Together, we can ensure that our city remains a beacon of civility and progress.

– Mayor Meredith Leighty

Feedback Sought on Adams 12 Proposals

Adams 12 Five Star Schools

Blueprint is a community-driven plan that defines and prioritizes the needs of Adams 12 Five Star Schools. Through a collaborative process, investment opportunities were identified that address what the community values and wants to see the district provide for students.

As part of its Blueprint planning process, the Five Star District will likely ask voters to approve funding for critical facilities and programming investments prioritized by the community. These investments will allow the district to continue:

- Providing safe, comfortable and welcoming environments
- Equipping students to thrive in a rapidly changing world
- Providing opportunities for students to discover their passion at an earlier age (P-12)

- Supporting a thriving economy with a skilled and effective workforce
 - Staying competitive in keeping and attracting high-quality staff
- Visit www.adams12.org/funding-proposals to learn more about each investment.

City Manager's Column: A Letter from Heather Geyer

On the Road Again

► Tax Dollars Dedicated to Maintaining Quality Streets

Geyer

I know many joke that Colorado has two seasons – winter and construction. However, it may be that one leads to the other and this perception!

This year Northglenn will invest $1.56 million in residential streets, our annual investment in roadway rehabilitation. This ongoing investment further affirms the city's commitment to maintaining high-quality roadways.

The PCI is the most commonly used system to rate streets and inform how we prioritize what roads are improved on an annual basis. The last evaluation was done in 2022.

On a scale of 0-100, Northglenn has a goal of a 70 average PCI rating, which is considered Very Good. The city's average PCI was 67 in 2022, which is considered Good. It is an average – so recently repaved streets are 100, and streets needing work are likely 60 or below. City Council has strategically invested more than $15.5 million in the past five years to address deferred maintenance and improve our roadways.

Staff uses Streetlogix, a highly customizable, web-based asset management software that enables municipalities to optimize their road budget within a GIS environment. The system provides information on the state of our infrastructure and makes maintenance and repair recommendations, including prioritizing roadway and sidewalk projects.

$15.5M

Amount spent on street maintenance by the city over the past five years.

Below are sections of the streets selected for rehabilitation based on PCI rating. Use the corresponding number to find their location on the map.

1. Livingston Drive from 104th Avenue to Lambert Lane
2. Carmela Lane from 104th Place to Brewer Drive
3. Naiad Drive from Livingston Drive to Huron Street

4. 100th Place from Pecos Street to Croke Drive
5. Loren Lane from Coring Place to Leroy Drive
6. Regina Lane from Downing Court to E. 108th Avenue
7. Malley Drive from Washington Street to Irma Drive
8. Humboldt Street from Malley Drive to Fowler Drive
9. Muriel Drive from Northglenn Drive to Washington Street

Funding for roadway rehabilitation is supported through the city's 4.0 Mill Levy, which is strictly dedicated to the repair and rehabilitation of streets. This was approved by city voters in 2010.

Though road construction can be an inconvenience, it is a fiscally responsible use of public funds. Preventative maintenance of roads costs less than waiting so long they need a complete overhaul. Better road conditions also contribute to improved air quality, public safety, and better quality of life. Regular evaluation of our residential streets also provides an opportunity to include upgrades such as bike lanes, more effective striping, and additional signs if needed. I hope you enjoy your smooth roads, Northglenn!
