Water Leasing Program

The City of Northglenn has needed to repair pumps at Bull Reservoir for the reservoir to operate properly. In doing so, the reservoir level had to be lowered significantly. Additionally, the City of Northglenn is finalizing its recent change application for a large portion of its FRICO shares. Because of this change application and the demands of those shares for municipal use and return flows, coupled with the lower reservoir level, the City of Northglenn will not be having a water leasing program for the 2023 season.

As we progress through the early part of 2023, water resources staff will reevaluate its potential water availability. If water does become available to lease, announcements will be made on the City of Northglenn water resources webpage.

Although we cannot at this time determine the long-term future of our leasing program, we will be sure to communicate with the community the status of the leasing program year to year until a decision has been made.

Thank you,
