Installing EV Charging Stations at Your Business

Curious about how EV charging could support your business? Below are four reasons it might be a good fit:

1. Stand Out: Offering EV charging stations can distinguish your business from others, attracting new customers and employees looking for a charge.
2. Show Your Commitment to Sustainability: When customers and employees see EV charging stations, they'll know you are contributing toward a sustainable future.
3. Prepare for the Future: As EVs continue to grow in popularity, EV charging stations will transition from amenities to necessities. Stay ahead of the curve and learn how to provide this service effectively.
4. Tap into Revenue Opportunities: Per-session charging fees can be assessed to cover installation and electricity costs, and charging stations in prominent community areas provide opportunities for corporate sponsorship or targeted advertising.

Whether it's chargers, infrastructure, or advice, Xcel Energy advisors will make it easy. Simply fill out an intake form and an Xcel Energy advisor will be in touch. Want to research on your own? Visit Commercial EVs.
