PATERSON, NEW JERSEY:

February 27, 2017

Passaic County Prosecutor Camelia M. Valdes and Haledon Police Chief Angelo Daniele announce that law enforcement officers in Passaic County administered Naloxone to one subject on February 24, 2017. Naloxone is a medicine administered by way of a spray into the subject's nostrils to counteract an opioid overdose.

Haledon police officers deployed Naloxone at 8:31 p.m. to a 27 year old male who resides in Haledon, New Jersey. When officers arrived at the location, the subject was observed to be unresponsive and not breathing. Officers administered one dose of Naloxone and the subject became responsive and alert. Care of the subject was transferred to local emergency medical services.

Since 2014, members of law enforcement in Passaic County have received training in the administration of Naloxone to respond to suspected opiate overdoses. This incident is the twenty-second (22nd) Naloxone deployment in Passaic County in 2017.
