To: BOCC

From: Meghan DeBolt, MPH, MBA
Public Health Administrator

Intent – Inform the Board of County Commissioners of the Department of Community Health’s (DCH) desire to move forward with scheduling Heart of the Matter training, a professional development training through the Children’s Resiliency Initiative.

Topic – Training and Office Closure

Summary

DCH has been presented with an opportunity to undergo resiliency training for all staff through the Children’s Resiliency Initiative, led by Teri Barila. The training is called The Heart of the Matter and it is a three-part series focusing on how safety, connection and learning are impacted by the effects of negative childhood experiences. This training will be a building block for DCH’s involvement and leadership in the community around resiliency and trauma informed care.

Proposed training dates and times:

- Session 1: Why Brain Science Matters - Jan. 23 from 10:00am to 12:00pm
- Session 2: Adult Awareness and Self-Regulation - February 6 from 10:00am to 12:00pm
- Session 3: Strategies for Integration - February 27 from 10:00am to 12:00pm

During the trainings, the DCH office will be closed to the public.
