The ideal candidate will provide coverage for conflict cases and any over caseload of the primary public defender. In some cases, both in-custody and out-of-custody clients will be assigned for representation from Pre Trial through Trial. Yelm Municipal Court will not guarantee any specific number of case assignments.

Note: Currently, the Court is in session every other Thursday (2-3 calendars per month).

Term

The City is interested in establishing and maintaining a long-term, stable relationship with its public defense attorney and intends to enter into a 2-year agreement with the possibility of extending the agreement; however, either party may terminate the Agreement by giving sufficient notice to the Court in writing of at least 60 days.

Scope of Services and Compensation

The selected public defender will provide legal representation for defendants assigned at all pre-trial hearings, motions, trials, sentencing, reviews, and appeals to the point of filing. The attorney will provide criminal defense services and will be available to talk and meet with indigent defendants in the Nisqually Tribal Jail. Legal services provided will include, but not be limited to, interviews of clients and potential witnesses, legal research, preparation and filing of pleadings, negotiations with the appropriate prosecutor or other agency and court regarding possible dispositions, and preparation for and appearance at court proceedings. Performance of services shall comply with the Standards adopted by the Washington State Supreme Court and the City (collectively, "Standards"), whichever is more restrictive.

The City proposes to compensate the public defender $250 per assigned case, compensation for representing a defendant at a jury trial shall be $750.00 per day. Bench trials and any CrR 3.6 Suppression Motions are compensated at $375.00. The Attorney shall be solely responsible for payment of applicable federal and state taxes and shall be responsible for his own medical insurance, dental insurance, retirement, and business license with the city.

The public defender is considered an independent contractor who shall at all times perform the criminal defense duties and responsibilities and carry out all services as an independent contractor and shall never represent or construe its status to be that of an employee of the City, nor shall the public defender be eligible for any employee benefits.
